Tullahoma Comprehensive Plan 2040

Request for Proposals

Return Proposals to:

ATTN: Purchasing Officer

Paige Jackson

PO Box 807

201 West Grundy Street

Tullahoma, TN 37388

1.1. Purpose

The City is soliciting proposals from qualified, multidisciplinary planning firms/consultants to update the community wide comprehensive development plan. The area to be considered in this comprehensive development plan update will include the City's urban growth boundary and corporate boundary as shown in the attached map. The comprehensive development plan will serve as the guiding document for growth and development regarding land use, zoning, utility capacity and construction, economic development, traffic management, recreation, capital budgeting, provision of municipal services and facilities, housing, and community engagement.

Tullahoma's community-wide comprehensive development plan was revised in 2011 and has become outdated in dealing with current issues related to a growing community. It is the City's desire that there be significant and meaningful community participation in preparation of the plan and that the consulting team includes substantial opportunities for citizen participation in the planning process.

1.2. Project Background Information

The City of Tullahoma is the largest city in Coffee County, TN. Located in the south-central area of the state, Tullahoma is approximately 74 miles southeast of Nashville, 58 miles northeast of Huntsville, AL, and 77 miles northwest of Chattanooga; is in this area's growing automotive corridor. The City's corporate boundary encompasses approximately 23.49 square miles in Coffee and Franklin counties. The July 1, 2010 census certified the population at 18,655, an increase of 2.91% from the City's census of 2000. The City is part of the Tullahoma-Manchester, TN Micropolitan Statistical Area which includes three counties and a population of 100,210 (2010). Originally an agricultural community and rail center, Tullahoma diversified economically, with industry, manufacturing, and education contributing significantly. The role as a regional economic center for south-central Middle Tennessee continues to present day.

1.3. Community Engagement

The City of Tullahoma considers itself to be a progressive, diverse, and forward-thinking community and desires formulation of a comprehensive development plan that will be inspirational for the community. As part of the plan process, the City desires to place a major emphasis on community engagement. The Tullahoma Board of Mayor & Aldermen has determined that the City must ensure it continually creates a better quality of life for the community. In order to implement that vision the Board of Mayor & Aldermen has identified four core service values: to create safe and livable neighborhoods; to identify opportunities for projects that would draw new investment, users, and visitors to the subject area (including small and large scale development); to provide all citizens, residents, and visitors alike excellent and affordable services with a focus on customer service; and, to produce an action plan section (recommendations and next steps based on the baseline data collected). The Board of Mayor & Aldermen considers the comprehensive development plan update a foremost opportunity to engage the public and involve them in formulating a plan that truly belongs to the community and implements these values.

The City is seeking a consultant team that will engage the public through various media, including presentations, public hearings, social media, the internet, and workshops throughout the project. This community engagement process should be empowering for the public, engaging people in the process, and maintaining their continued participation. The consultant should embolden the community to think beyond the status quo, fostering an environment of cooperation in working together for Tullahoma's future. The methods of public outreach and involvement should be advanced and inventive in manners that encourage residents to connect within the community to bring value to the plan.

1.4. Scope of Work

The selected consultant will identify and assess local conditions and needs, analyze demographic implications, identify areas for potential growth or improvement, and formulate strategies necessary to foster the successful implementation of the plan. The selected consultant will lead the planning process and develop project deliverables with oversight from the Community Development Director and Senior Planner. All work shall be completed in accordance with applicable City standards and within the agreed upon timeline. The intent of the Scope of Work is to serve as a framework which consultants can use to develop a more detailed scope of services based on their professional expertise and knowledge. At a minimum, the selected Proposer will be responsible for the following items and deliverables for the Projects:

(Note: The following outline is intended to provide information about expected content for the purpose of formulating a proposal. Consultants are encouraged to present additional information and different document organization.)

An overview of the planning process including the nature of public involvement is to be provided in this section. The executive summary shall include a brief overview of the comprehensive development plan including key elements and conclusions.

Population and History – A brief history of the community shall be included and many of the city’s residents do not understand its significant history and how that has influenced growth and development. The comprehensive development plan shall include estimates, projections, and forecasts to determine future public facilities necessary to maintain adequate service levels. Projections shall be provided up to the year 2040 with milestones for years five, ten, and twenty years. The comprehensive development plan must examine the demographic estimates and projections, including base year 2010 data regarding death/birth rates, employment, income, education, and tax base.

The comprehensive development plan shall conduct an analysis of local economic factors that may influence growth and development and the consultant shall create a market overview identifying existing or emerging opportunities for the City of Tullahoma. The comprehensive development plan should identify opportunities for the city to attract quality jobs to the area. Additionally, the comprehensive development plan shall address Tullahoma’s commercial, office and industrial development market factors and identify existing and potential employment areas. The city is looking to expand its economic opportunities and diversity of its economy and will be looking for recommendations at potential development areas as part of the comprehensive development plan. The comprehensive development plan should look at how Tullahoma can promote opportunities for hospitality, tournaments, and conferences/tourism.

Land Use – The consultant shall review and analyze local conditions, the existing comprehensive development plan, and plans developed and utilized by the City of Tullahoma. The comprehensive development plan should include a land use map as well as policies and recommendations pertaining to land use. The comprehensive development plan should prepare a land use capacity analysis that will help direct growth and redevelopment within the city. The plan should review the city’s urban growth boundary (UGB) areas for potential annexation, future development, and potential amendments that should be made within the UGB areas. The plan should examine zoning and potential impediments to future growth and development that may require zoning ordinance amendments. The comprehensive development plan should include a thorough description of each land use designation and associated policy guidance statements.

Transportation – The comprehensive development plan should examine the policies and objectives under the recently adopted Tullahoma Comprehensive Transportation Plan as a guiding document (not to be replaced or combined) and the Area Rural Planning Organization (RPO) Regional Transportation Plan. This plan should also consider work accomplished to-date through the RPO’s ongoing Southeast Area Transportation and Land Use study. These recommendations shall devise strategies that will enhance local mobility choices in relationship to land use. While the regional plan should provide a general framework for modeling and land use purposes, the comprehensive development plan should recognize a more localized perspective in crafting transportation planning and land use recommendations. This component of the comprehensive development plan should also include transportation policy suggestions and land use must be integrated and interrelated to be consistent with any transportation policies and recommendations presented. The Tullahoma Municipal Airport Plan should be reviewed for consistency with the comprehensive development plan.

Housing – The comprehensive development plan shall include strategies for housing that are broad and inclusive to ensure sufficient quantity and quality of local housing for all incomes with special emphasis on affordable housing. An assessment of the current housing market and long-term projections for new development, homelessness, and low-income housing inventory should be performed. The consultant shall Utilities – The Tullahoma Utilities Authority provides electric, water and sewer services within the city’s corporate boundary. The consultant shall prepare their recommendations for the comprehensive development plan understanding the utilities authority’s water and sewer infrastructure capacity and the demands that various land uses will place on the utility systems. Tullahoma Utilities Authority’s existing plans shall be reviewed and incorporated into the comprehensive development plan. Conflicts between the existing plans and the comprehensive development plan shall be identified. In addition, the comprehensive development plan shall examine the extension of sewer for growth (as well as capacity), and provide a recommendation concerning the need for density of development relative to utility capacity.

Community Facilities and Services – The comprehensive development plan should include an inventory and assessment of city assets that will support the city’s growth and development. The city envisions this assessment as including, but not being limited to a review for public safety needs, solid waste disposal, public buildings, educational facilities, libraries, community centers, parks, open space and greenways, and recreational facilities. Conflicts among needs shall be identified and public space and facilities needs prioritized. The city recognizes that the location and design of public facilities have a significant impact on the neighborhoods in which they are located. When considering new municipal facilities, it is appropriate that the comprehensive development plan identify how the city might meet its future space and facility needs.

Urban Design – Good design ensures attractive, usable, durable, and adaptable places. The Urban Design element should guide the public and private development to create and build upon a Tullahoma that is diverse, progressive, people and community oriented, aesthetically appealing, and functional as Coffee County’s largest city. The comprehensive development plan should provide a framework of areas appropriate for the application of urban design elements as advocated through the public comments workshops, possibly including the gateway, major corridors, and downtown.

Historic Preservation and Cultural Resources – The comprehensive development plan shall identify significant historic resources throughout the city. In addition, the Historic Preservation and Cultural Resources element shall identify important local cultural and historic resources and establish goals, policies, and actions for the protection and preservation of those resources. By identifying historic areas and cultural resources for preservation, the city anticipates the comprehensive development plan will encourage appreciation for the city’s history and culture, maintain the character and identity of the community, and contribute to the city’s economic vitality through historic preservation.

Natural Resources and the Environment – The Natural Resources and Environment element shall include information on the Tullahoma Beautification Plan, open space, storm-water management, watersheds, drainage, floodplain management, and natural resources. The comprehensive development plan should identify goals and policies that seek a balance between the built environment and the protection and preservation of the city’s natural resources and the environment.

Intergovernmental Cooperation – Some issues are area-wide and regional in nature and require cooperation between jurisdictions. The plan shall reflect that Tullahoma is part of an economically interconnected region as part of the Tullahoma-Manchester Micropolitan Statistical Area that shares infrastructure and resources. This plan element shall address how regional plans and the comprehensive development plans of Coffee County and Franklin County impact Tullahoma and how Tullahoma’s plan will impact regional plans and those of adjacent communities (i.e., Decherd, TN, Coffee County, TN and Franklin County, TN).
